

SIGNATURE INFRASTRUCTURE + COMMUNITY NOVELTY

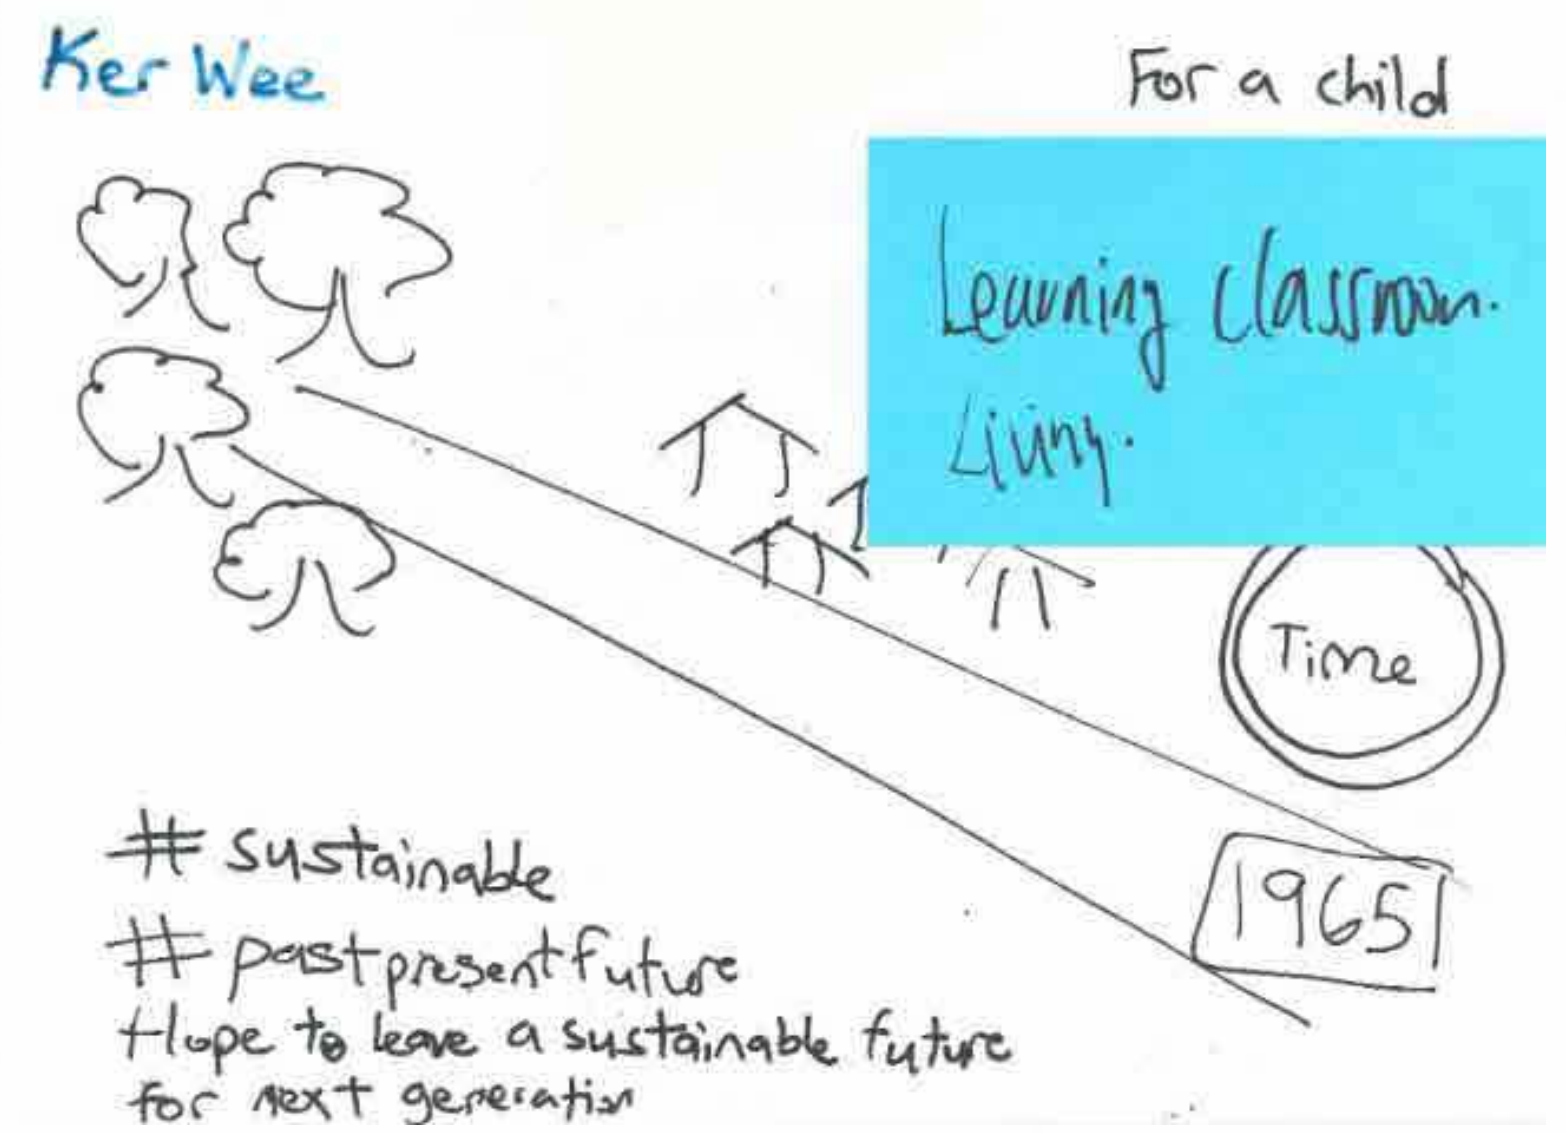

Signature infrastructure and community novelty is crucial for establishing the NSC as a vibrant community hub and cultivating a deeper connection to Singapore's culture and heritage. Integrating elements that resonate with our culture and heritage will be a compelling storyteller for all, capturing the unique essence of each locality and creating a space that invites visitors to engage with the nation's rich history.

A community hub

- Participants want a space for convenience, community, and recreation. They want a space where residents may gather for activities or events, promote a culture of community and sharing, and a space that could be an extension of their homes. They hope that space can strengthen ties and connections within the community.

“ Families can watch and support each other when people are competing in a race. ”

Places that ignite connection to culture and heritage

- The NSC should build upon heritage, linking people to the past and helping them understand and showcase their roots. Participants hope that each portion of the NSC can tell a story and capture the essence and identity of each locality.

Signature infrastructure

- NSC could provide structures that symbolises the unique identity and values of each area, and distinct enough so that each place does not feel the same. These facilities serve as a focal point for community events, a landmark for navigation, and a backdrop for photos.

“ It should bring out local arts and culture, and be a place to discover. ”

Through walking and cycling, we'll engage with spaces that invite us to partake in the storied landscape of our nation. ”
